THEME : REVIVAL OF AN OLD ERA OF WORLD GURU IN CHANGING NATIONAL & INTERNATIONAL SCENARIOS

Occasionally, you will come across information that shows the strength of India in ancient times. In the 17th century, India was a key player in the world economy and was a leading exporter of spices, sugar, textiles, handicrafts, and much more. It was also the first country to adopt a money-based trade. For those surprised at the encouraging dominance India once had, it's worth noting that there was a time when India's share in world trade was about 24.5% – at par with the share of the entire European continent. No wonder why many empires invaded us with the intention to rule the Vishwa Guru. We want to beat the unbeatable to prove our strength. We fail to realize that our real strength lies in building others, not burying them. But India wasn't like any other nation. We never invaded anyone. In fact, despite so many invasions of our country, our glory didn't die. It faded, for sure. But it is still there. Now, the time has come to recapture our fading glory. Now is the time to re-emerge as the Vishwa Guru that India once was.

SUB THEMES
